

MATHERS SAFETY SNAPSHOT

Each week the Mathers Safety Team meets to review on site incidents and track trends across the company in an effort to increase transparency and to develop proactive plans to mitigate reportable incidents.

This week as the Safety Team met they spoke about a spill on a site that had been overlooked.

Spills are easily prevented, and should be addressed as soon as they are found so that the spill can be properly identified, the SDS can be consulted and the spill can be properly controlled, and cleaned.

SDS sheets should be available on site or electronically for any and all materials. Any questions about SDS sheets or proper policy & procedure can be directed to your Safety Team.

MENTAL HEALTH AWARENESS MONTH

October marks Mental Health Awareness month, and Monday October 10 was World Mental Health Day. During this month we want to take a moment to share resources with the Team. According to Industry Research 1-in-5 people in the construction industry struggle with depression, anxiety and other mental health issues.

As a team, it is important for us to know the signs of struggle to be able to support one another.
